++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

A mostly cloudy day, perhaps the odd sunny spell later.

Today:

A rather cloudy day, with morning cloud thick enough for some patchy light rain or drizzle in places. Cloud will break slightly throughout the day, bringing an occasional sunnier spell. A few light showers are also possible. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tonight:

Remaining largely dry throughout, with areas of cloud but occasional clear spells. Overnight, these may allow patchy ground frost and fog to form in places. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Monday:

A mostly cloudy start across much of the region. Remaining largely dry throughout, with cloud becoming more broken and giving way to occasional afternoon sunny spells. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:

Cloudy but dry Tuesday. A band of rain moves across the region Wednesday morning. Clearer skies and drier conditions following but becoming more unsettled from later on Thursday.
